got this message "no such a directory or file exe"when I try to install driver (hytech ht 5520 v1.4).rar. any help? A: The driver in question, Hytech Webcam HT520, requires Windows Vista or Windows 7 to operate. There is no Windows XP driver available for this device. If you want to use this device under Windows XP you can use the built in webcam driver. If you have a Windows Vista or Windows 7 computer you can download the zip file of the driver from the Hytech web site. If your computer is not running Windows Vista or Windows 7 you need to use a Windows 98, Windows ME or Windows 2000 compatible computer. On Friday, 2010 OKC Thunder guard Thabo Sefolosha did something he'd never done in his life. He played in a game. Sefolosha played an unselfish 14 minutes, 14 seconds, and made 6 of his 8 field goal attempts and 2 of his 3 free throw attempts as the Thunder beat the Orlando Magic 122-110. Not only was Sefolosha on the floor, he scored 7 points, dished out 5 assists, had 2 steals and 3 rebounds, making Sefolosha the first player in the history of the NBA to play without a technical foul or ejection since the league began recording stats in the 1950s. Sefolosha's previous high was 5 points (2/3 FG, 1/1 3pt.) and 6 rebounds in a 2004 season opener against the Wizards. The former UConn standout is on the cusp of being officially upgraded to the active roster. The expansion team should play his fifth game of the season tonight. UPDATE: By the time this post was published, the Thunder had lost 121-107 to New Orleans. So, no. Sefolosha didn't play in that game. But he played in a part of the game that exists, at least. The Thunder played their 15th game since the new collective bargaining agreement was signed, the 12th in which they played all their minutes. It was only the 8th that they played all but less than 30 minutes. If he were, say, Markeif Morris, when the Thunder play out the rest of this season there will be no question who played the most important part of the game.
