Back then I used Victor Cheng's LOMS and his case interview secrets as a book. you have a very good basic set of tools in terms of what areas to explore. This will help you get started and how to get started. But I would recommend that you take an online course from Victor Cheng to learn about specific skills such as public speaking, listening and presentation skills. If you want to go for it, he also has a course on the subject. But if you want to know the deeper details, as well as learn how to learn how to speak in public, then this will be very useful. In terms of an interview with Victoria Cheng. You know what I meant.
