The campaign was led by then Philippine President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo. The nine-month-long campaign had arrested 556 members of the political party. Of these, the Department of the Interior and Local Government (DILG) had launched 91 without following the proper procedures. According to the People Power Act, DILG is not authorized to take such action by itself. However, the DILG was able to get the Commission on Appointments (CA) to approve his recommendation to dismiss them. We Shall Overcome The campaign was started a day after President Macapagal-Arroyo signed the new Oplan Bantay Laya II, which meant "commitment to the people", "shaking the foundations of social injustice", the "campaign against corruption", "resolving the problems of marginalized sectors of our society", and "routes to responsible citizenship". As a counter to the political party Anakpawis, the Oplan Bantay Laya II became known as Oplan Anakpawis. All the knowns Anak e79caf774b
