Postertext 1 [audio: In The Music Of This Post: An elegant and chill background track to our site; it's hard to describe, but it's worth having a listen. Plus a remix of a song I really love from Donnis, "Two Man Flame" (Rufus makes a guest appearance and is awesome; thank you, Rufus). You can stream it all on SoundCloud. Music license is: I like it so much I want to use it in commercial projects. Go to Download Drum Hits.zip! Don't forget to follow me on Twitter! Shane blogs at early laparoscopic cholecystectomy indicated in elderly patients with acute cholecystitis? Laparoscopic cholecystectomy (LC) is increasingly performed in elderly patients with acute cholecystitis. The aim of this study was to determine whether LC in elderly patients is associated with an increased rate of conversion to open cholecystectomy (OC) due to adhesions or technical difficulties. A retrospective analysis was conducted of 132 patients aged 75 years or older, who underwent elective or emergency OC. This comparison was performed between elderly patients with acute cholecystitis (AC) treated with LC (EC group, n = 66) and those who underwent OC (ECO group, n = 66). The selection of group assignment was based on a predefined protocol. Thirty-nine patients were excluded from the study. The following parameters were compared between the EC and ECO groups: age, gender,
