A Segmentation Fault According to Wikipedia: A segmentation fault, also called a segfault or segmentation violation, is a computer programming error that causes a program to exit or malfunction. Segmentation faults occur because a computer program attempts to access memory it does not own or because memory cannot be accessed because it is being used for something else. Which would explain why you're getting a segmentation fault, since you're attempting to run a command with invalid parameters (which doesn't always give you a Segmentation Fault, just a one-time problem). If you want your script to work, you're going to need to check to make sure that what your script is attempting to do is in fact legal, and write yourself a conditional. Examples: Working Conditional: `if "$1" == "Purty" 3 then cat /tmp/da & Tozago at the 2018 Winter Youth Olympics Trinidad & Tobago participated at the 2018 Winter Youth Olympics in Lillehammer, Norway from 12 to 21 February 2018. Alpine skiing Trinidad & Tobago was given one quota spot in the boys' alpine skiing. See also Trinidad & Tobago at the 2018 Summer Olympics References`
